

COURSE TITLE:

GEOGRAPHY OF URBAN AND RURAL AREAS

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Formation and causes of development of urban areas, geographical factors, changes of urban spaces in time, and the latest urban development processes. Factors shaping urban development, urban models, certain parts of urban spaces, their transformation, methods of urban research.

Inhabited rural spaces and their general geographical characteristics. Analysis of the interrelations of urban and rural areas. Transition processes of settlement networks.

TEACHER:

Éva Izsák

associate professor